

COMMUNITY MANAGEMENT

As a small organization that is just starting out, any kind of professional advice and support will be of great help to us in strengthening ourselves as an entity not only on a technical level, but also on a human level. These are some of the demands we currently have:

- Advice on communication management in social networks
- Support in web management, content, visibility and SEO positioning
- Support in the search for influencers, and in the management and creation of content for social networks

Do you have another proposal? Share it. . .