

HOME VOLUNTEERING

ADVICE AND COLLABORATIONS

As a small organization that is just starting out, any kind of professional advice and support will be of great help to us in strengthening ourselves as an entity not only on a technical level, but also on a human level. These are some of the demands we currently have:

- Fundraising, online crowdfunding channels, access to public or private calls for proposals, as fundraising tools
- Advice on legal and tax issues for the management of NGOs and associations
- Tools to carry out the accounting and finances of the organization
- Marketing to create, communicate, and exchange information about the organization that has value for the members and society in general
- Communication, social networks and access to the media to gain visibility by expanding the scope of our solidarity message and our projects
- IT and new technology development
- Article writing and translation tasks

Or you tell us, we listen to you. . .